One of the significant speeches in the nomination of Mr. Clark was by Mr. Ansberry of Ohio.

"On behalf of the sixteen Democratic members elected to the Sixty-second congress from the great state of Ohio," said Mr. Ansberry, "the state which at the next national convention of the Democratic party will present the name of Judson Harmon for the presidency, I second the nomination of Champ Clark of Missouri."

At mention of Mr. Harmon's name, several Democrats applauded. There was little cheering at his mention of Woman's Suffrage Prospects Are Not So Bright.

was little cheering at his mention of Mr. Clark, Mr. Clark's friends fearing that cheering in that connection might be misinterpreted to mean cheering for the Ohioan who was conspicuously mentioned for the presidential nomination. Members Indicate They Will Be Given Preference.

> Moving Picture Regulation Bill Reported Unfavorably.

> The preliminary skirmish in the woman's suffrage battle was fought out in the house Thursday afternoon and the opponents of the equal suffrage won. A yea and nay vote was taken to determine whether or not the equal suffrage bill should be made a special order of business for next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The nays won 62 to 54. Consideration of the equal suffrage resolution was indefinitely postponed.

The fact is, the woman's suffrage resolution hangs in the balance and may be thrown into the discard for the reather that it has to be passed in son alone that it has to be passed in the form of a constitutional amend-ment and as only three of these amend-ments can be passed at a session those amendments embodying platform promises have the right of way, or should have in the opinion of many of the house members who would otherwise favor the suffrage bill.

Abrams, of Cowley county, arose from his sent like a phantom of wrath in the path of the suffrage bill when he put the question to the house in regard to the sidetracking of platform promises for equal suffrage. Other members took up the question and the suffrage reso-lution went down the toboggan slide of postponement like a boy on a bobsled.

Beachey, of Sedgwick, started the trouble when he made a motion to set next Wednesday afterneon as the time for debate on the suffrage resolution. The house was about to pass the motion when Reeder of Doniphan called attention to the fact that the house had just a few minutes before agreed that all constitutional amendments be laid over until it was reasonably certain that all that would be submitted were in and then the house could be able to make a fair and intelligent selection of three from the lot.

There was a lively debate for a few minutes over the Beachey motion. During this debate the question of constitutional amendments that involved materials are all the constitutions. platfrom promises was brought up. The recall, the initiative, the referendum, the direct vote on United States senators, the constitutional convention and other important resolutions of similar character were mentioned. Many members went on record during the debate and roll call as favoring woman's suffrage, but at the same time they intimated that they would give platform promises the preference in selecting three con-stitutional amendments.

There will be one big fight on the suffrage bill. It looked like a cinch for the women a few days ago, but now there is every promise of a hot debate and a close vote. The women will have to have a two-thirds majority to pass their concurrent resolution and their chances look doubtful in the light of Thursday's test vote on the proposi-

While the roll call vote below does not indicate with accuracy the sentinot indicate with accuracy the senti-ment of the members on the suffrage question, ; t it is in a measure a test vote. Those who voted for the motion are the members who can be depended upon by the women. Those who voted nay may some of them favor the proposition to a degree but they, are lukewarm, and the majority of the noes are likely opposed to suffrage. The following is the vote on the Beachey motion to set Wednesday as the day choked to death before the caucus met. In the afternoon Representative-elect Thayer of Massachusetts, who first "sounded the tocsin" in a letter of warning to the members-elect, called a meeting at the Willard hotel to map one think of the map of the campaign.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—WHEAT—Quick scalping was the rule today in the wheat pit. The crowd bought early and then turned sellers on the resulting bulge. These tactiles were aided by the fact that the Liverpool market showed a rise due to the lightness of Argentine shipments for the United Kingdom. On the other hand mild weather in the American winter wheat belt afforded a reason for not staying too long with the bull side. The opening was yet to action. With drawn revolvers the intruders lined up the hostess and her guests in train robber fashion and proceeded to go through the pockets of the men and the handbags of the women.

Mrs. Elliott and her friends were so thoroughly frightened they made no outcry until the five men had left the apartment, when the police called. It is said the men escape an automobile. They secured $250 in money and jewelry valued at $1,500. SEL/TZER KING ASKS DIVORCE.

Father of Mrs. Smith Hollis McKim Formerly of Reno Colony.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 20.—It has become known here that Captain Isaac E. Emerson, known as the "Bromo-Seltzer King." has asked an absolute divorce from his wife through placing in the hands of Judge Charles W. Heuisler of the circuit court sealed papers in which, it is said on excellent authority, statutory charges are made. It is said on similar authority that a well known Baltimorean is named as corespondent.

Captain Emerson, who is known as one of the wealthy residents of Baltimore, is the father of Mrs. Smith Hollis McKim, a member of the Reno colony who divorced her husband last summer. It was reported at that time that she had divorced her husband in order that she might wed a member of the Vanderblit family of New York.

Three resolutions were introduced providing for the method of selecting committees. Representative Foster of Illinois proposed that the ways and means committee should also be a commentative of the method of selecting committees.
